Play is essential to development because it contributes to the cognitive, physical, social, and emotional well-being of children and youth. Play also offers an ideal opportunity for parents to engage fully with their children. Despite the benefits derived from play for both children and parents, time for free play has been markedly reduced for some children.

Considered to be Australia's most common and widespread venomous snake, the king brown snake (Pseudechis australis) is a stocky species with a broad head, large eyes and a rounded muzzle. Despite its name, the king brown snake is not a true brown snake, all of which belong to the Pseudonaja genus, and it is instead named for its typical colouration.
